

Fundamentals of Asset Management

What is it?

ISO 55001 Asset Management is the new standard which supersedes PAS 55. The key difference between the two is that whereas PAS 55 focused on physical assets only, ISO 55001 reflects a consideration of all types of financial, physical and organizational assets. If your organization has multiple assets at the heart of its' business, you will know that an effective management strategy should contribute to better operating results, performance and improving your bottom line.

Why do I need it and who should attend?

This interactive 2 day course will provide an overview of asset management, what it is and what it can do for your organization. It shares the latest thinking, processes, methods and tools in joined up management of any asset. Any person with an interest or responsibility for physical or other assets, risk management, resourcing operations, technical services, quality management or organizational development would find this course beneficial.

How will I benefit?

This course will provide a clear understanding of asset management terminology and its correct usage. You will gain an appreciation of asset management practices, activities and methodologies and recognize the value obtainable from the integrated approach to the life cycle and risk based management of assets.

What will I learn?

Upon completion of this training, you will be able to:

- Recognize and apply asset management terminology, definitions and principles
- Identify and manage expectations of stakeholders
- Understand internationally recognized asset management methodologies and good practices
- Appreciate structured approaches available for the improvement of value realization from assets
