We spend 250,000 hours a year improving the performance of UK businesses

This experience allows us to see first-hand how managing environmental impacts with an ISO 14001 management system helps to achieve a sustainable future and deliver real benefits.

Environmental issue	How ISO 14001 helps	Benefit
Pressure to grow sustainably is a challenge for any organization	• It identifies and establishes the significance of all your environmental impacts • It implements effective operational controls to manage your environmental impacts • It improves the efficient use of natural materials	• Lower operational costs which allows you to pass cost savings on to your customers • Reduced waste and an increase in efficiency • Increased stakeholder confidence
Organizations need to stay up to date with legislation and remain compliant, as breaches can lead to fines and prosecution	• It makes you take account of legal requirements when setting up, implementing and maintaining your ISO 14001 system • It ensures you commit to complying with applicable legal requirements • It makes you communicate relevant information on legal and other requirements to employees and interested parties	• Improved levels of compliance to environmental legislation • Reduced likelihood of fines and prosecutions, which in turn can lead to less visits from the environmental agency and lower insurance premiums. • Keep abreast of legislation changes so that you have adequate time to address issues and ensure compliance
A poor environmental record can quickly damage an organizations reputation with both customers and investors	• It shows that environmental impacts are priority • It reassures stakeholders that best practice systems are in place • It makes sure you continually improve your sustainable development	• Improved reputation and stakeholder satisfaction • Increased access to new customers and business partners • A competitive advantage to grow your business

Increasingly supply chains demand that organizations manage their environmental impact	• It demonstrates that you are an ethical and credible organization
	• It is internationally recognized
	• It helps to establish lasting partnerships with customers and suppliers at home and abroad
		• Increased likelihood of repeat business
		• Access to new markets
		  - positively presents your organization for tenders and investment opportunities
		  - opportunities to expand your business overseas

Supporting products and services

Our training tutors can help your teams understand how to implement and conduct internal audits on your ISO 14001 management system

Business Improvement Software powered by Entropy™ is an affordable modular solution with tools to help you effectively prepare for ISO 14001 certification

Excellerator report unique to you. Once you have certified this powerful analytical tool will benchmark your performance against industry averages taken from our global client survey

To find out more Call : +44 845 080 9000
or visit: bsigroup.com

bsi.

...making excellence a habit.™