

Introducing BS 10012

Show commitment to personal information management

Make personal information management a focus for your business

Key benefits

Inspires customer trust

Supports regulatory compliance

Helps manage business risk

Protects your reputation

Protecting personal information has never been so important. As legal requirements such as the European Data Protection Regulation (EU GDPR) are developed and enforced, businesses need to demonstrate that they take managing privacy seriously. And that's where BS 10012 can help.

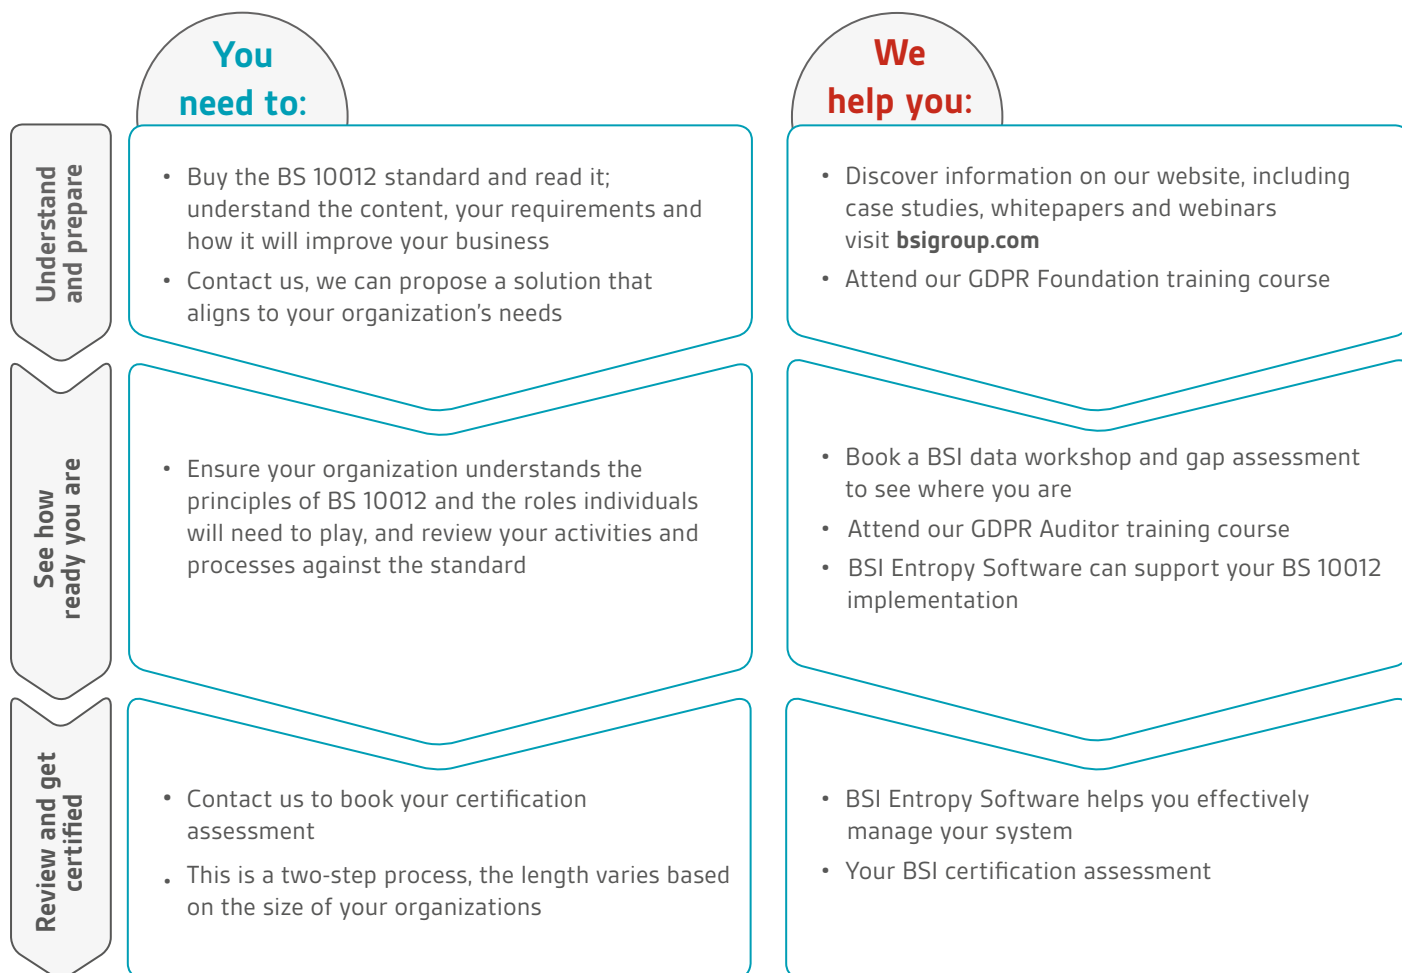

BS 10012:2017 is the British standard that sets out the requirements for a personal information management system and aligns with the principles of the European

General Data Protection Regulation (EU GDPR). It outlines the core requirements organizations need to consider when collecting, storing, processing, retaining or disposing of personal records related to individuals.

At BSI we have the experience, the experts and the support services to help you get the most from BS 10012 and show your commitment to personal information management.

Your BS 10012:2017 Journey

Whether you're new to personal information management or looking to enhance your current system, we have the right resources to help you understand and implement BS 10012. We can help make sure your system keeps on delivering the best for your business.

Why BSI?

BSI has been at the forefront of information security standards since 1995 when we produced BS 7799, the world's first information security standard, now ISO/IEC 27001. And we haven't stopped there, addressing the new emerging issues such as cyber, cloud security and privacy. That's why we're best placed to help you.

At BSI we create excellence by driving the success of our clients through standards. We enable others to perform better, manage risk and achieve sustainable growth. For over a century our experts have been challenging mediocrity and complacency to help embed excellence into the way people and products work. We make excellence a habit.
